

Choirs, Choral Conductors, Organizations

The ACWC Choral Collective consists of ACWC professional choral composers who are teaming up with Canadian conductors in order to promote and distribute their choral music throughout Canadian universities, colleges, secondary schools, and choral organizations. Canada is known for its excellent choral music, and Canadian women have been composing excellent choral music for decades. The ACWC Choral Collective provides a platform for interaction among these composers and choral conductors, and is open to all conductors and ACWC composers who are interested.

The following conductors and choral organizations are available for us to contact. Note: this list will be updated regularly.
